

CALL FOR WRITERS!

RED MESA REVIEW 2026

NOW ACCEPTING SUBMISSIONS

Red Mesa Review is a literary publication of UNM-Gallup. The editorial board is now accepting submissions of poetry, short fiction and essays from authors and artists of Gallup and local communities of the Four Corners region.

Submission Requirements:

Poetry:

1-3 poems per submission
(Word Doc)

Short Fiction:

(including flash fiction and short stories): 1-3 pieces per submission – 3,500 words maximum (Word Doc)

Essays:

(including memoir and creative nonfiction): 1-3 pieces per submission – 3,500 words maximum (Word Doc)

- Email submissions to keristevenson@unm.edu. Work must be sent as an attachment.
- Subject line of email as follows: (Red Mesa Review_Last Name_First Name).
- Email must include: Your Name, Short Bio, Submission Category, and Contact Information (email and phone number).

Red Mesa Review accepts submissions of unpublished work (online publication does count as a publication). Simultaneous submissions are allowed, but please notify the editorial board as soon as possible upon acceptance at another publication.

➤ DEADLINE: APRIL 1, 2026 ⬅

To learn more about Red Mesa Review and to view past collections, please scan the QR code or visit gallup.unm.edu/redmesareview

