INDIGENOUS HEALTH AND UNITED NATIVES

To talk about Indigenous Health and United Natives we asked our Student of the Month, Erin Jones.

What is Indigenous Health and United Natives?

"Within the company we strive to help Native communities when it comes to addiction/recovery and helping with mental health; to add on is to help native college students succeed and giving them opportunities, we normally do not get"

What benefits, opportunities, and services does the company provide?

- "We did many literature reviews, conducted events such as putting together a football camp for Native Youth, we got 4 UCLA players. The quarter back Dorian Thompson Robinson, Zach Charbonnet, Jake Bobo, and Titus Mokal"
- "We put together another event, an art launch party for Native artist Randy Barton and Native Designer Dr. B and Palani Bearghost"
- "We participated in a Gilead Research Study that Dr. Lee (CEO of Indigenous Health) oversaw, we got Native college students from different reservations and different Universities to participate in a research survey study."
- "After all the work we did over the summer and assisting with the research project. Myself and the 2 other interns earned a spot when the project gets published."

Interested in applying for an internship?

- Follow Indigenous Health and United Native on their social media
- Go to the Indigenous Health and/or United Natives website

Student of the Month

Erin Johns

What other activities do you participate in around campus and in the community?

"I have a job as a Behavioral Health Technician at in Indigenous Health, just to make sure the clients are going further in their journey with no issues. I also sit on the United Natives Youth Council, and through there we are part of research projects and speak at big conferences on the disparities and challenges that native youth go through in the community."

Where do you plan to transfer after graduation?

UNM main campus

How does it feel to be student of the month?

"It is very honoring to be named student of the month, throughout my time being at UNM Gallup and in TRIO. Never throughout my years being in school would I have thought this would happen. Therefore, I am very grateful for this opportunity."

Do you have any student habits you would recommend to students? What are they?

"One of them is always writing in my planner of my daily tasks. So I can stay on top of things for job and my classes."

What is your favorite thing about TRIO/SSS?

"The support and help they give me whenever I walk in."

Is there someone you are particularly thankful for or would like to acknowledge?

"Sophia Francisco, without Sophia I do not think I would be where I am with my academic journey. Whenever I need help, she is always there to assist in any way that she can."
