PURPOSE OF TRIO UPWARD

BOUND

Upward Bound was the first federal TRIO program funded through the U.S Department of Education in 1964.

A total of 8 TRIO programs provide outreach and student services programs designed to identify and provide services for individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds. TRIO programs specifically serve and assist low-income individuals, first-generation to college students, and/or individuals with documented disabilities to progress through the academic pipeline from middle school to post baccalaureate programs.

There are hundreds of Upward Bound programs throughout the United States. serving low-income and first-generation to college high school students with the primary goal of increasing the secondary education graduation rate, the postsecondary institution admission and attendance rate, and ultimately increasing the percentage and rate of participants graduating with a college degree.
