

HOLIDAY GREETINGS TO THE UNM-GALLUP FAMILY

As this semester draws to a close, Kelli, Emma and I would like to take time to wish each of you a very happy, safe and joyful holiday season. Thank you for the part each of you has played in the successes of UNM-Gallup this year. You should all take pride in your role in making a difference in the lives of our students. Through our collaborative work we have clearly demonstrated the value of our campus community as one that is vibrant, mission-oriented and student-centric.

I look forward to the endless possibilities which will be presented to us in 2019 as we continue to be an optimistic influence to our students and our community. Using our combined ambitions, energy and dedication we can count on making our UNM-Gallup impact even stronger.

Enjoy this well-earned holiday break by celebrating with family and friends. I wish you much health and happiness in the New Year.

Warmest regards, James.
