MANAGING STRESS & ANXIETY:

We recognize the stress and anxiety these times might cause to members of our UNM-Gallup community—especially those who have family members impacted by the virus or working on the frontlines to keep our wider community safe.

The tips on this poster below created by UNM Student Health & Counseling are helpful and timely in helping all of us manage stress and anxiety. And, as a reminder tomorrow’s support circle will be held at 1:00 p.m. via Zoom. This is an opportunity to gather with others for support and additional guidance. If you’d like to join the support circle tomorrow, email women@unm.edu.

It is so important at this time to stay connected to your friends and family members, stay healthy by social distancing, follow recommended CDC guidelines, and limit the amount of COVID-19 news you’re viewing each day. There are also many great wellness resources and recommendations posted almost daily at www.unm.edu/coronavirus.

We are here for each other as we continue our UNM-Gallup mission.
UNM SOCIAL MEDIA GUIDELINES:

Just a gentle reminder to please be aware of your association with UNM-Gallup in online social networks—and ensure that your profile and content is consistent with how you wish to present yourself to colleagues, students, parents, and other constituents.

Because we are dealing with a virus, we should also be mindful of maintaining the health confidentiality of our community members in online social forums. Our guidelines state that we should not post or share confidential information about the University of New Mexico (including our campus), its students, its alumni, or your fellow employees—including information protected by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

To read the university’s full social media guidelines, please CLICK HERE.

Even though most of us are working remotely, the media might at times reach out to one of our community members for comment on an emerging news story. If you are contacted by a member of the media for an inquiry or interview request related to UNM-Gallup, please route those questions or requests to Lee at lambc@unm.edu or (505) 206-1117.

UNM-GALLUP APRIL POLICE SCHEDULE (REMINDER):

While we ask all of our community members to limit their trips to campus during this period of limited operations, we understand that you might need to contact our campus police for various issues. Please see April’s police schedule HERE.

And, many thanks to our police officers and other personnel who are working so hard to keep our campus secure while we are mostly remaining off campus and continuing to function remotely.
UNM-GALLUP ADVISING RESOURCES (REMINDER):

We’ve updated our UNM-Gallup advising page to add additional resources:

Student Q&A: COVID-19 Measures for Student Academic Success

Due Diligence in Alternative Methods of Advising

Student CR/NC Policy Update

UNM Registration How-To Video

UNM-GALLUP LIMITED OPERATIONS (REMINDER):

UNM-Gallup has extended our period of limited operations until further notice. We must follow the governor’s public health orders requiring that identified non-essential businesses and employees work remotely. Until those health orders are relaxed—or we receive further social distancing guidelines from the state—we will continue to operate under limited operations:

- All UNM-G physical facilities will be accessible by authorized Tier 1 personnel only until further notice. The fitness trail is also closed.
- This excludes: 1) The general public; 2) Admitted and registered students; and 3) Tier 2 and Tier 3 employees.
- Our courses in progress will be conducted via remote instruction through the end of this semester.
- Mail continues to be sorted every Wednesday. Please contact Linda at lbegayne@unm.edu to schedule UNM official business only mail and financial aid checks.
