NATIONAL NURSES DAY:

Each day during this pandemic, nurses and healthcare workers are performing heroic efforts on the frontlines to keep our families and communities well. The personal sacrifices that our nurses are undertaking now to see us through this crisis cannot be understated. The long hours. The emotional toll of fighting a disease that—until recently—we’ve known very little about. Shopping for food and necessities after a tough day. Today, we celebrate a very special National Nurses Day to recognize and salute their service to keep us well and help see us through this national crisis. To all nurses, we give you our deepest gratitude and pay tribute to your service!
DIVERSITY AT UNM-GALLUP:

UNM-Gallup is set to launch a virtual diversity series with a focus on campus and organizational culture. A previously scheduled Diversity Summit was canceled in late April due to the COVID-19 Coronavirus pandemic, and we are now transitioning to building an online diversity series, conversations, and resource library to benefit our campus and organizational culture.

“We have a focus on diversity at UNM-Gallup and its impact on our campus and organizational culture,” said L.D. Lovett, who serves as the director of diversity, equity, and inclusion at the university. “Diversity in the world, society, and higher education is a reality and must be addressed in an open and civil manner. Through serious ongoing discussions, we are considering its impact on education, on behavior, the workforce, and on how we treat each other.”

Additional details are available in a recent article published on the UNM-Gallup newsroom. You are invited to check our Website often for further updates and additional details.

UNM WOMEN’S RESOURCE CENTER:

A reminder from the UNM Women’s Resource Center that there are resources available even as the spring semester winds down, including free remote counseling and support groups.
GOVERNOR REQUIRES EMPLOYEES TO WEAR FACE COVERINGS:

Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham has urged business owners to begin preparing for the first phase of reopening New Mexico while the state continues to fight the COVID-19 pandemic.

Department of Health Secretary Kathyleen Kunkel has amended the state public health emergency order clarifying some of the steps businesses must take in order to operate.

- Beginning Wednesday, May 6, all large grocery and large retail spaces (those greater than 50,000 square feet in size) and all restaurants currently operating curbside and delivery service will be required to ensure that all employees have at least cloth face coverings.
- All employees must wear their face coverings in the workplace at all times when in the presence of others.
- Beginning Monday, May 11, all essential businesses of any size currently operating under the public health order must also comply with the face covering requirement.

Additional details are outlined in a recent press release from the governor’s office.

CELEBRATING THE CLASS OF 2020 (REMINDER):

Let’s start celebrating our graduates!

We’re inviting UNM-Gallup spring graduates and their families to send us their photos and graduation well-wishes to celebrate the Class of 2020! Starting this evening on our social media accounts, we’ll encourage our graduates to send us their “then and now” photos along with congratulatory messages to feature on our Website and social media. Photos and messages can be uploaded at http://www.gallup.unm.edu/students/graduationphotos.php

UNM COVID-19 SELF-REPORTING REQUIREMENTS (REMINDER):

UNM has implemented a policy for self-reporting either symptoms of or a positive test for COVID-19 in order to support efforts to slow the spread of infection. This is both to connect Lobos to resources that can support them, and to help the University assess the community impact of the virus.

This policy is specific to those individuals who are either currently working or residing on UNM main or branch campuses, or who have been physically on those campuses since April 3. It does not apply to the UNM Health Sciences Center, for which a separate HSC policy has been developed.

For guidelines and more information, please visit www.unm.edu/coronavirus and navigate to the bottom of the page.
