GOVERNOR ORDERS STATE FLAGS LOWERED IN HONOR OF GEORGE FLOYD, OTHER VICTIMS OF RACISM, INJUSTICE AND VIOLENCE

Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham has ordered state flags to fly at half-staff through sundown Friday, June 5, to honor George Floyd and all other victims of systemic racism and police violence, which have been the subject of peaceful protests worldwide.

The order, effective immediately, coincides with a memorial service Thursday afternoon in Minneapolis for Mr. Floyd. Other services were planned for Saturday in Raeford, N.C., where some of his family lives, and Monday in Houston, where he lived for many years.

More details included in the governor’s office release.

UNM-GALLUP GRADUATION CELEBRATION UPDATE:

An update from student affairs on graduation celebration efforts:

- While we may not have the opportunity to celebrate our spring graduates’ accomplishments in a traditional fashion now, UNM-Gallup does want to recognize their achievements. We are providing these graduates their cap and gown at no cost. An email recently went out to confirmed graduates with this information along with gown sizing guidelines and how to order.
- Our hope is that our graduates will share photos in their graduation attire along with a short bio and their sentiments for us to highlight on our Website and social media.
- We will also be announcing a “drive-up” photo shoot on campus that will provide our graduates with an opportunity to be professionally photographed with the commencement backdrop including the official University seal and mascot.
- And, they’ll receive an invitation to participate in the next in-person ceremony—typically held in December.

The on-campus photo shoot and in-person ceremony are of course dependent on COVID-19 guidelines, but we hope this provides some ways now to celebrate their accomplishments.

UNM-GALLUP BOOKSTORE UPDATE:

Just a quick reminder that our bookstore’s curbside pickup ends tomorrow, June 5th. Our gratitude to the bookstore staff for providing this service to our students as they begin the summer semester.
WEBSITE STANDARDS ESTABLISHED:

Over the past several months, we’ve worked to improve the functionality, consistency, and overall look of the UNM-Gallup Website. While some of these improvements are on the backend, there are some great new features—such as a newsroom for our campus, social media feeds, a new site footer, and other new pages that have increased our monthly visits and the average duration of time visitors spend on our site.

Another large piece of this project was to bring many of our pages in line with the overall UNM brand—and to create visual standards that convey a sense of credibility and quality for UNM-Gallup and its programs. We invite you to review our new UNM-Gallup Website standards document and become familiar with our new guidelines and templates that will be used moving forward to ensure that our Website is clean, consistent, and relevant to our many audiences. All information and requests posted on our site will need to fit within these guidelines moving forward.

Many thanks to Carmen Wellborn for heading up these great projects for our campus!

UNM-GALLUP LIMITED OPERATIONS CONTINUE (REMINDER):

We are continuing our period of limited operations until further notice with remote work and learning within our assigned employee tier system. Telecommuting remains our default for the majority of UNM-Gallup faculty, staff, and students. All summer courses remain online. And, meetings must take place remotely whenever possible.

Campus buildings will remain locked with no public access. We have a few essential Tier 1 employees who will have access to facilities, but we will continue to limit access to campus facilities.

UNM COVID-19 SELF-REPORTING REQUIREMENTS (REMINDER):

UNM has implemented a policy for self-reporting either symptoms of or a positive test for COVID-19 in order to support efforts to slow the spread of infection. This is both to connect Lobos to resources that can support them, and to help the University assess the community impact of the virus.

This policy is specific to those individuals who are either currently working or residing on UNM main or branch campuses, or who have been physically on those campuses since April 3. It does not apply to the UNM Health Sciences Center, for which a separate HSC policy has been developed.
